

Enjoy the Gentle Wonga Walk

Take a walk amongst subtropical rainforest and 600-year-old trees along the Wonga walk in Dorrigo National Park, home to the Tristania and Crystal Shower Falls.

The Wonga walk delivers all the delights of the subtropical rainforest and is one of the most popular walks not only in Dorrigo National Park, but also in Australia.

Tall, lush World Heritage listed rainforest provides a cool and shaded walking track. The cascading Crystal Shower Falls, 600-year-old trees, colourful fungi and interesting bird calls are just some of the sights and sounds waiting for you on this walk.

There are some steeper sections along the walk, a few steps and some boulder crossings, but you can break the walk up into shorter sections.

The walk starts from Dorrigo Rainforest Centre, you'll need to take Lyrebird link track for 400m before joining the Wonga walk. Look at the Dorrigo National Park map to see all the options. While the new Rainforest centre is being built, the walk will start from The Glade (see map and the photo below).

The Glade provides a beautiful situation for taking a rest during (or after) your walk.

Distance	6.6km loop
Time suggested	2 - 3hrs
Grade	Grade 2
Price	Free
Entry fees	Park entry fees apply

Please note:

- Be sure to bring a Dorrigo National Park map with you when you walk, along with some drinking water.
- The rainforest temperature can be cooler - you might want to bring a jacket.

If bushwalking is not practical, you can take a virtual tour of Wonga walk captured with Google Street View Trekker.

Grade 2
No bushwalking experience required. The track is hardened or compacted surface and may have a gentle hill section or sections and occasional steps. Walks no greater than 10km.